Neil Redman - Director SEMPRIS

Neil Redman is the founding Director of SEMPRIS and Managing Director of Health Partners Europe Ltd - medical advisers to the Premier League & ECB and leading providers of consultancy and medical support services to professional sport. With over 30 years' experience of managing and developing risk solutions across healthcare and insurance, Neil has unrivalled understanding and experience of the indemnity and associated legal issues that surround the delivery of medical services to professional and elite sport.

Mary O'Rourke QC - Old Square Chambers

With a special interest in Sports Medicine, Mary is one of the country's most respected and sought-after specialists in professional discipline, clinical negligence and employment law. Her first professional involvement with sports medicine cases was Brady v Sunderland AFC back in 1996/7 and since then has been involved in WBA v El Safty (2006) and Appleton v El Safty (2007) (for the surgeon). In 2009/10 she represented the "Bloodgate" doctor (successfully) before the ERC disciplinary and appeal panels and ultimately the GMC. Mary was instructed to defend an FA Cardiologist in the Radwan Hamed vs Spurs case and most recently acted for Dr Eva Carneiro in her claim for constructive dismissal against Chelsea Football Club and sexual discrimination against its former manager José Mourinho. She is passionate about her sports and is a season ticket holder at Manchester United and identifies as a career highlight cross-examining "Fergie" in the Appleton case.

Majid Hassan - Partner, Clinical Law Team, Capsticks

Majid handles a range of high value medical malpractice claims for medical malpractice insurers, including multi-party actions. In addition to his litigation work, Majid lectures to clients and national conferences on risk management and improving safety in medicine. He has obtained accreditation from the Institute of Risk Management and is involved in a number of patient safety research projects. He is recognised as a leader in his field in both Chambers and Partners and Legal 500.

Mark Gillett - MSc (SEM), FRCS, FCEM, FFSEM (UK & Eire)

Mark is a leading authority and Consultant in Sports Medicine and a Founding Fellow of the Faculty of Sports & Exercise Medicine in the UK. From 2003-2008 he worked for the English Institute of Sport as a Sports Physician in the West Midlands. In 2008 he became first team doctor at Chelsea FC before moving to WBA FC as Head of Medical Services in 2010. In 2012, he was part of Team GB at the London Olympics as Chief Medical Officer to the men's and women's basketball squads. His current positions include Director of Performance at WBA FC, Head of Athletic Performance at British Basketball, Head of Premier League Doctors Group and SEM Training Program Director, W. Midlands Deanery.

Peter Brownson - DM, FRCS (Ed), FRCS (Tr & Orth) (UK)

Peter is recognised for his expertise in arthroscopic shoulder surgery and is regularly invited to lecture and carry out live surgical demonstrations at courses across Europe and the United States. He is the Upper Limb Surgeon to Liverpool Football Club and in addition treats players from 7 other Premiership Football Clubs. Peter studied at Liverpool University where he qualified in 1986 (MBChB) and was elected a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh in 1991. He subsequently undertook a period of orthopaedic research at Nottingham University that included impact biomechanics as applied to aircraft passenger safety. It culminated in the submission of his doctoral thesis and the award of a DM. Peter completed his time at Nottingham as the Shoulder Fellow in the Nottingham Shoulder & Elbow Unit. In 1998, Peter was appointed as Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon in Liverpool and in 2012 was elected a member of Council for The British Elbow & Shoulder Society. He will become President of the Society in 2017.
